There are several ways you can reset a lost or forgotten Fortnite account password on the . For questions about the Fortnite account security and how to change a password, see our FAQ:. My question is: how can I use a different email address for registration and login? Is that even possible? A: Once signed in to your account you can click the gear icon (i) in the top-right corner of the screen and select the Profile section from the drop down menu. If you go to the 'email and password' tab you can then enter in a new email address and password. You can then click the account recovery link that appears in an email. This appears in your inbox and will allow you to set a new password and recovery email address. Use the same email address for both purposes if you are only ever logging in from the same device and are logged into the game on the same device. This will mean that your accounts will be linked to the same account on your email provider. If you switch devices (or if your account is not linked to your device) then you will need to have your account linked to a new email address. Q: React Native, useState inside map, how to loop over multiple data? I am using React Native and I am currently trying to create a list with 4 items, when the user click on the X, the item will be deleted. However I'm struggling with the useState as this is the first time I'm working with it and I can't work it out. I have a initial state of data that I would like to loop over, but I don't know how. this.state = { data: [{ label: 'label1', id: 'id1' }, { label: 'label2', id: 'id2' }, { label: 'label3', id: 'id3' }, { label: 'label4', id: 'id4' }] } }; data: function () { return this.state.data; } f678ea9f9e
