It's perfect for creating videos for your webpages, or for YouTube (you could use it to create playlists for your YouTube channel). And it's open source! At YouTube, they already build a lot of things like this, but most of the time, I find it easier to make a video using my own Mac. And YouTube is not accessible to all (I have disabilities, and my Mac is not so good to access this kind of video). Coub is nice because it's easy to share with family, friends, and it's much more accessible than YouTube. TikTok is a social network for video. You can add pictures, music, text, videos, and even replace them with others. It's fun to watch and they recently update the website with many new features. (Reuters) - A U.S. federal appeals court on Thursday upheld the seven-year prison sentence of former Trump campaign chairman Paul Manafort, the only Trump associate found guilty in the Russia investigation, as part of special counsel Robert Mueller's probe. The ruling from a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit means Manafort faces a maximum of 10 years in prison on each of 18 counts of federal tax and bank fraud. Mueller had recommended a sentence of 47 to 57 months, well below what federal guidelines called for. Manafort, 69, was convicted in August on eight counts of bank fraud and bank fraud conspiracy in a case brought by Mueller's office. Former Trump campaign foreign policy adviser George Papadopoulos pleaded guilty last October to making false statements to the FBI and agreed to cooperate with prosecutors. Former Trump campaign adviser Richard Gates was not charged. Manafort and Gates were charged as part of Mueller's investigation into whether the Trump campaign colluded with Russia during the 2016 presidential election. Manafort has denied wrongdoing, and said the case against him was politically motivated. "Nothing about today's ruling changes my commitment to defend myself against the special counsel's baseless allegations," Manafort said in a statement. "The special counsel's failure to accept my offer to testify illustrates that there was no factual basis to the charges brought against me." A spokesman for Mueller's office said the prosecutors declined to comment 82157476af
